Face_Processing - Methods Description

The pipeline consists of standard EEG preprocessing including bandpass filtering, artifact removal using ICA, and re-referencing. Data were epoched into 1-second segments. Features were extracted as Power Spectral Density values, aggregated across channels and regimes to form the final feature vectors. Classification was performed using Linear Discriminant Analysis with cross-validation to compute AUC and evaluate model performance.